

The Gateway

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1966, TWELVE PAGES

VOL. LVI. No. 32, UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA, EDMONTON, ALBERTA

DISMISSED COLWYN WILLIAMSON the tenure committee said no

Grant increases necessary - Price

By SHEILA BALLARD

The provincial cabinet's recommendation to increase per capita grants to universities is an indication of the success of student lobbying in Alberta.

Officials of the students' union are confident that the effectiveness of students as a pressure group has been recognized in the government

"It is essential for the grant increases to come through and we are naturally very pleased by the cabi-net recommendation," says stu-dents' union president, Richard

On Jan. 7 students' council presented a brief to the Board of Governors outlining council's stand on residence and fee rates.

"We had a lengthy and worthwhile exchange of ideas at this time," said Price.

Students' council has been actively campaigning to prevent a fee increase for two years.

The last fee hike came in the 1963-64 session when tuition fees were increased $50.

It is now up to the Board of Governors to make a final decision concerning fees.

However, the provincial government does have indirect control over fees—a grant increase is in effect a deterrent to fee increases, Price pointed out.

The crucial decision will probably be made at the Board of Governors meeting Feb. 11.

"I feel the premier's comment that he hoped the provincial grant would cut out the necessity for a fee increase is significant.

"I do not believe a statement to this effect has ever been made be-fore," said Price.

The federal government has increased its per capita grant from $2 to $5.

Since this will mean substantial since this will mean substantial assistance to universities in Alberta, we are optimistic that combined grants will prevent a fee increase, says Price.

However, we must not stop now but begin to look at things for next fall, he said.

"I see the possibility of a student group attending various conven-tions, such as the ATA and the FUA, which will be meeting next fall in an effort to acquaint these groups with our cause."

Williamson, Murray denied U of A tenure

Advisory committee rejects appeal by philosophy profs

By RALPH MELNYCHUK (Copyright, 1966)

Two U of A assistant professors have lost the second round of their battle to retain their positions in the philosophy department.

The Gateway has learned that an advisory committee of the Vice-President has recommended assistant professors David Murray and Colwyn Williamson be denied tenure.

Committee decides on tenure

A tenure committee's recommendation that two faculty members be refused permanent positions has sparked interest in the hiring procedure at U of A.

The tenure committee is an ad-visory committee of the vice-president of the university, responsible for investigating the qualifications of faculty members and evaluating their contribution to the university their contribution to the university. Faculty members become eligible for permanent positions at the university after a five-year trial period. Prior to this they are hired on an annual basis, upon the approval of the tenure committee which evaluates their performance and presents their recommendations to the administration to grant or deny ten-ure to the faculty member request-ing the permanent position—the final decision, of course, rests with the Board of Governors.

In the case of a denial of tenure the Board has no positive role since it may merely accept the advice of the committee and allow the con-tract to lapse—without making the actual decision to dismiss the fac-

The faculty member may seek reconsideration of his case by appealing to a grievance committee of the local staff association—but the committee can only request reconsideration on behalf of the faculty

The members of the tenure com-mittee are drawn from both faculty and administration.

The members are:

• the university vice-president, • the dean of the faculty involved,

• the head of the department in-one member of the department involved, • two members of the academic staff from other departments.

The members are selected by the dean and the department head and approved by the university vice-president.

University Vice-President Dr. Max Wyman has apparently ac-cepted the recommendation. How-ever, he would make no comment about the affair.

"It would be improper for me to make any statement," he said. "This is a personal matter between the professors involved and the univer-sity administration."

Both assistant professors Murray and Williamson have refused to make any public statement.

make any public statement.
On Jan. 3 the two professors were first informed that their tenure would not be renewed. They then lodged an appeal through the welfare committee of the Association of Academic Staff of the University of Alberta at Edmonton.

COMMITTEE RECONVENED

After a hearing, the staff associa-tion recommended that the tenure committee be reconvened with the addition of a third member of the philosophy department, a tenured

The Vice-President reconvened the committee, but in its original form. The second decision was the same, although it took considerably longer to reach

It is normal procedure to have a tenured member of the department involved on a tenure committee.

The only other tenured member of the philosophy department, other than department head Dr. A. M. Mardiros, who is automatically a member of the committee, is Professor Herman Tennessen.

Professor Tennessen was not a member of the committee. TERMS NOT ACCEPTABLE

TERMS NOT ACCEPTABLE
A spokesman from the philosophy department, who wished to remain anonymous, and who is neither Williamson nor Murray, suggested that the decision was made on grounds which are not normally acceptable in considering tenure.

acceptable in considering tenure.
He said there are certain procedural rules of weighting judgment in tenure cases—60 per cent goes for teaching, 30 per cent for scholarship, and 10 per cent for community activities and general value to the department.

"There is no doubt that both are competent teachers," he said. "Neither is there any doubt in the minds of those who are competent that both are able scholars."

"However, no one on the committe made any attempt to become significantly acquainted with the works of these professors, with the possible exception of the Vice-President, who read a major part of one of them," he said.

Former and present graduate and Turn to page six. See "Philosophy"

Dismissal sparks dispute

REGINA (CUP)-A special student assembly here heard charges of outside interference in the university's dismissal of a teaching assistant with radical views.

James Harding, 24, told more than 400 concerned students at a Jan. 19 meeting that the administration's decision to refuse him tenure was a threat to, academic

It was the second meeting in the dispute

Harding cited numerous telephone calls from parents, and particularly a call from a Brigadier Keehr, in which Keehr suggested to the administration that Harding was not good for the "image" of the university. of the university.

Harding claims the administration's action had been purely subjective and personal with no consideration of his academic qualifications or teaching ability.

The head of the psychology department's committee on tenure told the students' as-sembly that the department considered Harding's quali-fications adequate and his teaching ability equal to any other member of the depart-

Dr. D. Blewett also outlined many instances in which Harding had taken the initiative and sacrificed his own time to organize depart-

Harding is an instructional assistant in the psychology department and is the federa chairman of the Students Union for Peace Action.

Brigadier Keehr, the alleged instigator of the dismissal, declined attending the meeting saying he had been advised it would be bad for the image of the university.

The administration fears me as a threat to the system, Harding said in a recent in-

"People in Regina, as on other campuses, are extreme-ly sensitive about the hap-penings at Berkeley last year," he said.

The students have formed an investigation committee to study the dispute and pre-pare a documentary report and recommendations on the short shorts

Professor L. C. Green to speak at opening of UN Model Assembly

UNITED NATIONS CLUB

UN Model Assembly will open Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in rm 129, ed bldg. Prof. L. C. Green will speak at the opening after which a resolution on Vietnam will be debated.

On Friday, Mr. Geoffrey Pearson, member of the Canadian mission to the UN, will speak. The vote on the Vietnam resolution will follow.
Tag by the control of the control and the control of the control
and the control
and the control of the control
and the control

Winnipeg and Calgary will attend.

WEDNESDAY

MIXED CHORUS

The University of Alberta Mixed

Chorus presents its 22nd Annual Concert in the Jubilee Auditorium on Wednesday, Thursday and Fri-day beginning at 8:15 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 and are available from any Chorus member, in the Arts, Education and Students' Union box

AFRICAN STUDIES

The Anthropology Club in con-junction with the African Studies Committee will present Mr. S. Saberwal who will lecture on "The Saberwal who will lecture on "The History of Stateless Societies: A Case Example From Kenya." The talk will be held Wednesday in rm. 145 ag bldg. This will be the first of a series of talks to be sponsored by the Anthropology Club and the African Studies Committee. The public is invited.

THURSDAY

VGW DISPLAYS

Those people who are interested in presenting a display for VGW Feb. 19, and who have not done so already, please contact Ken Zender at 433–3804 or care of the SUB before Thursday.

FRIDAY

CHRISTIAN CULTURE SERIES

Dr. Richard J. Schoek will speak on "Thomas More: Human-ist in the World," at 8:30 p.m. in mp 126, Friday.

The Student Christian Movement Coffee House is open every Friday at 9 p.m. Entertainment is pro-

SATURDAY

INTERFAITH MEETING

HILLER AITH MEETING
Hillel is sponsoring an interfaith meeting Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the Beth Shalom synagogue, at 119 St. and Jasper Ave. Guest speakers include Father Pendergast, Reverend Terry Anderson and Rabbi Klein. Everyone is invited.

UNDERGROUND NOTICE

Underground is sponsoring a Folk-Jazz Festival Feb. 9 at 8.2m, m. the Jubilee Auditorium. Featured are Zen Magus, Wildwood Singers, Just Three, and Hams Stamer, Underground members receive 50 cents discount on a full control of the Allied Arts box office in the Ralled Arts box office in the Ray

Students are urged to take advantage of the publicity available in the program board's bi-monthly publication of QUOTIDIE. Campus clubs can register their forth-coming events by Feb. 15 for in-clusion in the next calendar.

OFFICIAL NOTICE Any group or club intending to use the Jubilee Auditorium in the next two years should make reservations immediately. Contact Mr. Pleures, at 439-2776.

Fraser Smith Coordinator of Student Affairs

ESCORT SERVICE

Women of Delta Gamma desiring a sober, well-mannered escort for the D.G. formal please contact Mr. P. D. McArthur at 488-8981.

WATER SAFETY

A Red Cross water safety in-structors course will be held Feb. 11, 12, and 13 and Feb. 19 and 20. There is a $5 registration fee. Inquire for further details at the phys ed general office.

OFFICIAL NOTICE Applications for the positions of editor of The Gateway and dir-ector of Evergreen and Gold must be submitted to the secretary-treasurer before Feb. 14.

Both positions carry an honor-

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Student discounts are offered at the following stores:

- the following stores:

 1. Cal's Ltd., 10005-Jasper Ave., 10 per cent
 2. Del Marche Shoes, 10520Jasper Ave., 20 per cent
 3. The Slack Shop, 10027-Jasper
 Ave., 10 per cent
 4. Irving Kine, 1013s-Jasper
 Ave., 10-15 per cent
 5. Kilp and Kurl Salons (all), 20

- Rip and Kult Salois (a.), per cent Alberta Giftwares, 10187-103 St., one third off most mer-chandise and 50 per cent off jewellry and watches Jane Brooks Ltd., 10117-103 St.,

- 7. Jane Brooks Ltd., 10117-103 St., 10 per cent. 10 per cent. 10 Exp. 105 St., and Jasper Ave., 10 per cent. 10 Sainthill-Levine Uniforms, 3550-37 St., 10 per cent. 11. Famous Players Theatres, studies of the Cleaner (all), 10 per cent. 12. Page 10 Cleaner (all), 10 per cent.
- Fage the Count of the Count of

SOCIAL WORK

The Alberta Association of Social Workers will discuss the field of social work in Dinwoodie Lounge, Feb. 9 at 8 p.m.

Feb. 9 at 8 p.m.
Students are encouraged to come and discuss any problems they have in regard to curriculum, social work schools, personal qualifications, and salaries with professionally trained workers from a variety of local settings.

Coffee and doughnuts will be

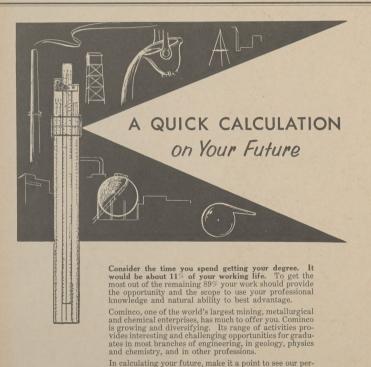

UNITARIAN CHURCH of Edmonton 12530 - 110 Ave.

The Rat Race Well Run" Sunday-9:30 and 11:15 a.m. R. J. Wrigley, Minister

Dr. James E. Tchir

401 Tegler Building Telephone 422-2856

sonnel representatives when they visit your campus. Or write to our Personnel Division, Trail, British Columbia.

THE CONSOLIDATED MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY OF CANADA LIMITED

Interchange of Canadian cultures benefit both Indian and White man

The white man and the Indian have adopted features from each other's cultures, the Canadian Native Seminar group was told Saturday

The white man's dancing is getting closer and closer to the Indian's war dancing, said Adrian Hope, president of the Metis Association of Alberta.

Europeans adopted smoking and the use of the potato from the Indians, he told the seminar.

While even the smallest Indian tribes were voting for their chiefs,

MONTREAL (CUP) — Students at McGill University have voted to reject membership in the Union Generale des Etudiants du Que-

In the second referendum on the subject Jan. 26, 2,893 students voted against UGEQ affiliation, while 2,254 were in favor.

McGill students' union president, Sharon Sholzberg said she does not plan to resign as a result. She had previously said she would give up her post if McGill students rejected

Following the release of the results, Miss Sholzberg telephoned UGEQ president Robert Nelson to inform him of the outcome. After the call she said:

"He agreed with me that this is

UGEQ membership. She said "the question of membership in UGEQ will never be over until we are members of UGEQ."

McGill again rejects

membership in UGEO

born into government positions, he said.

It was not until after the white man came to America that the Europeans adopted the democratic system, said Mr. Hope.

The white man also has many things to contribute to the native's

But there are many things we do not want from the white man, Mr.

He compared the white man's enslavement by the almighty dollar to the slavery in ancient Rome. Other speakers said the Indians are searching for spiritual things not the end. McGill will someday be a member of UGEQ.

Miss Sholzberg said she did not know whether McGill would retain is membership in CUS.

"Many would object to CUS on the same grounds as they object to UGEQ," she added.

She said a referendum might have to be held on the question of CUS affiliation.

CUS vice-president Richard Good commented in Ottawa that: "if the rejection of McGill mem-bership in UGEQ is an indication of students' unwillingness to par-ticipate in the full development of Quebec society, the outcome of the referendum is disastrous.

"CUS believes in the right and responsibility of Quebec English-speaking students to participate in both the English speaking and French speaking nations of this country."

just as we are searching for tech-nical advancement.

Presently, the white man is con-Fresently, the white man is con-stantly active; as automation de-velops, the white man will have more leisure time and will have to learn how to relax.

The Indian has already learned how to do this, he said.

Two girls at the seminar told The Gateway that the older gener-ation is not willing to change to the white man's way of life.

Many of the younger ones wish to change, but they want to retain certain customs such as their dances, they felt.

A great number of Indians would like to adopt many of the material things of the white man's society, but are not willing to make the sacrifices necessary to obtain these

In recent years many of the Indian children have made sacrifices by attending integrated schools, he claimed.

MUST UNLEARN CULTURE

They have had to advance faster than the white children as they were forced to unlearn much of their culture in order to adopt to the white man's way of life, the speaker pointed out

Because of the difficulty of get-ting teachers on reserve, speakers said, the Indians have had to accept the least competent teachers in the past, thus increasing educational lag.

Mr. Hope said that a few years ago the children on his reserve with a grade eight education had the equivalent of the white grade five student, because of poor quality teachers on reserves.

The consensus at the seminar that the greatest need of the Indians is a right to control their own destiny.

ARDA develops communities

University and govenment of-ficials are increasing efforts to develop Alberta's human resources. The department of extension will expand its staff to initiate a program of training in community de-velopment and expand its current program of rural leadership train-program of rural leadership transing.

Funds amounting to $153,000 will be provided over a five-year period through the Agricultural Rehabilitation and Develop me nt Act to finance the program.
Both Provincial and Federal agencies are using the community development approach extensively with Indian and Metis groups, and with rural groups in general.

with indian and Metis groups, and with rural groups in general.

"The community development approach will be the most effective way to wase Canada's War on the community development will provide essential training for field community development will provide essential training for field culturist and social workers.

Now, a program for teaching inter-cultural situations and and advisory a or mnittee on inter-interval training the state of the control o

within the university

PREPARE TEACHERS

This program and committee are designed to adequately prepare teachers for work among under-privileged, culturally differentiat-ed groups in Western Canada.

Socred leader calls merger publicity stunt

The Progressive Conservative Club on campus is looking for a publicity stunt, charges Dale Enar-son, campus Socred Leader.

son, campus Socred Leader.

Enarson was commenting on an article which appeared in the Jan.
26 edition of The Gateway. The article quoted Bill Winship, leader of the campus PCs, as saying Enarson approached him regarding a merger of the two parties for Model Parliament.

Energy said be did approach

Enarson said he did approach Enarson said he did approach Winship two months ago regarding the possibility of re-alignment on common grounds. However, said Enarson, it was not a merger procommon grounds. However, share Enarson, it was not a merger pro-posal. It was an attempt to gather those who believe in a common ideology into a common category. Enarson said it has always been Social Credit practice to investigate-re-alignment in times other than elastion time.

re-angament in times other than election time.

"If in fact Bill did say what was written in The Gateway, it would appear the PCs have had a publicity stunt on the Calgary campus and are now looking for one on this campus," said Enarson.

Of particular interest to potential community development officers is a new course on the human com-munity offered by the department of sociology.

Most dramatic of recent ac-complishments achieved using community development tech-niques in Alberta has been the increase in rate of employment of native people in the Fort Mac-Murray area, and the drop-off of welfare payments in the same area.

welfare payments in the same area.

"A current idea is that community development is only for Metis and Indian problems. This is completely wrong. While the Indian and Metis have been among approach and while much remnas approach and continue to be done in this area, the concept can be equally effective in work among any underprivileged Canadian group, regardless of ethnic origin, 'he said.

TOTAL INVOLVEMENT

TOTAL INVOLVEMENT
It is difficult to agree on a short definition of community development, says Dr. Hynam, but all concerned will agree that two key concepts are involvement of all concerned including the people to be helped, and self-help.

To eliminate paternalistic em-pire-builders community develop-ment officers are not obligated to serve a single government department, but are required to ordinate the efforts of seve specialists into a total effort overall improvement and concern

The more direction from above "The more direction from accu-and the more easy money avail-able, the less likely there is to be true human-resource develop-ment," said Dr. Hynam.

The present Co-ordinator, Whitford, is responsible to Cabinet Committee composed four ministers whose portfolios in-volve resource development.

volve resource development.

"There is a growing need for workers whose concern is with the totality of a community" said Dr. Hynam, "and unless there are concentrated efforts to make adequate training available in sufficient quantity, there is a grave danger of community development falling into disrepute because of unqualified workers taking its name in vain."

Dr. Hynam said the White-Indian Dr. Hynam said the White-Indian problem has been given priority as a major community problem but is only part of the totality of concern of community development. "The community development officer must be concerned with the community as a whole," he said.

According to Dr. Hynam the initiative and development of community development in Alberta has been provided by various groups.

"If there is any one person who could be called the academic father of community development in Alberta, it would be Dr. B. Y. Card of the department of educational foundations," said Dr. Hynam.

Northland School Division

is seeking teachers for schools located in Northern Alberta. These schools are in isolated areas but modern housing is provided for teachers at a reasonable rate.

Preference will be given to teachers who have had some teaching experience and are trained as Elementary Teachers.

Salary Schedule-

$3,500 $4,100 $4,800 $5,500 $6,100 $6,700 $5,600 $6,700 $7,400 $8,600 $9,200 $9,800

TEACHERS WHO AGREE TO TEACH FOR NORTHLAND SCHOOL DIVISION IN SEPTEMBER 1966 MAY BE OFFERED A POSITION AS AN INTERN FOR MAY AND JUNE AT THE RATE OF $13 PER DAY.

Mr. R. H. Sabey, Superintendent of Schools will be interviewing prospective teachers at the Student Placement Office of the National Employment Service, University of Alberta on February 7 and 8. Please make an appointment for interviews.

QUOTIDIE

-Students are urged to take advantage of the publicity available in the program board's monthly publication QUOTIDE

-Campus clubs can register their forthcoming events by Feb. 15 for inclusion in the next calendar.

-QUOTIDE is distributed every 2 months.

The Gateway

Winner N. A. M. MacKenzie trophy for excellence in features 1965-66. Winner Montreel Star trophy for excellence in news photography 1965-66. Second in Bracken trophy competition for editorial writing 1965-66 and third in Southam trophy competition for general excellence 1965-66.

Editor-in-Chief -- - Don Sellar

Managing Editor Bill Miller

Associate Editor Doug Walker

News Editor Blindiller

News Editor Helene Chomids

Ast. News Editor Byon Compbell

Photo Editor Byon Compbell

Bromling Photo Editor Dhin Thompson

Photo Editor Chom Thompson

Photo Editor Chompson

Photo Editor

Photo

you's truly, Harvey Thongist.

The Getewy is published semi-weekly by the students' union of the University of Alberta. The Editorin-Chief is responsible for all material published herein. Final copy deadline (including short start tensis) in-Chief is responsible for all material published herein. Final copy deadline (including short start tensis) contained to the contained of the contained tensioned that the contained tensioned the contained tension that the contained tension that the contained tension that the contained tension te

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1966

thank you, mr. manning

Premier E. C. Manning and his cabinet are to be heartily congratulated for their recom-mendation to the legislature of a $235 per student increase in its annual grant to the university.

This increase is a concrete sign that the cabinet is becoming aware of the financial problems not only of the university, but of One of the interesting facets of this generous increase is that it should virtually eliminate any need for a futilion fee hike to be of the financial problems of the provincial government for an excuse for such an increase. Governors cannot argue that the province did not give lit enough to run the university property. The grant increase.

has removed any pressure from the government to advocate a fee increase.

The Board is running the university this year with tuition, a $2 per student federal grant and a $1,365 per student provincial grant. Next year, it will be able to run the university with tuition, an increased federal per student grant and a $1,600 per student.

When the board decides on next year's budget, it will have an increase of more than $3 million in provincial grants, plus the increased federal grant to apportion as it sees fit. Unless some contingent situation the projected increase, there will be no reason for the Board to decide and only it can decide) on an increase in tuition fees.

harnessing youth

_ by don sellar

A new student movement centred on the ideals of social involvement and social conscience has appeared on the Alberta political scene.

But no political party has yet managed to attract. The Movement into the realm of practical politics, even though all have tried.
The Social Credit administration has proposed a youth ministry to harmess. The Movement, and opposition parties have also been quick to recognize the fact that half of Az and therefore a prime political target.

Proposersive measurements are marked to a prime political target.

and therefore a prime political trapic Conservatives, meeting in Calgary at the weekend, were exposed for the first time to the formless conglomeration of young ideas which have been bouncing about on Candian university campuses during the last few months. At Calgary, the party had its first real look at politically uncommitted, but socially aware youth.

but socially aware youth.

Conservative Party leaders now realize that it is one thing for them to espouse the vigor and enthusiasm of youth and to promote "an accent on youth," but quite another for them to find a place in their party for young persons who tend to reject party affiliation and solidarity.

Even the young and aggressive Peter Lougheed, who someday hopes to lead a revitalized Conservative machine into power in Alberta, has failed to say precisely how he intends to harness youth.

he intends to horness youth.

At the PC convention, young Conservatives committed to Mr. Lougheed's cause pold nething more than lip-service to stugreater part in the running of university offairs than they have ever had before. That lip-service came from Jec Clark, U of A political science lecturer and newly-elected
political science lecturer and newly-elected to the political science lecturer and newly-elected to study the political science lecturer and newly-elected
to study the political science lecturer and newly-elected tending the political science is the political science lecturer and newly-elected tending the political science is the political science of the political science is the political scie ation Saturday night.

Clark told a nearly-empty room that stu-Clark told a nearly-empty room that stu-dent activism is a force which Conservatives must reckon with. He called on delegates to contribute towards the building of a "strongly-dissident" student federation which would foster student contributions to all levels of political endeavour.

Earlier in the day, Edmonton campus PC leader Bill Winship spoke out during a panel discussion on the advisability of establishing a youth ministry in Alberta. His words were rife with frustration. The question of a youth ministry, he sold, is nothing more than "political expediency" coming at a time when compus parties are struggling against political apathy. "We can't attroct members to our compus club," he admitted. "And there's no use talking about a youth ministry. We have calking about a youth ministry. We have written the contract of the contract o ernment."

Winship's words followed those spoken by three of four panel members, who were extremely critical of Premier Manning's proposed youth ministry. The three critics had tremely critical of Premier Manning's pro-posed youth ministry. The three critics had all expressed concern over the inability and unwillingness of political parties to recognize youthful ideas in the harsh world of political reality. They spoke for The Movement— which advocates social action and open pro-which advocates social action and agen pretable. And they were facing a pliffully small audience already committed to political action within the party framework, an audience apparently unwilling to defend the political Establishment or party effiliation.

Youth, and the subject under discussion was young was to be by youth or about youth. As things turned out, the debate was watched by a small number of young persons and a handful of older party members who were interested in listening, not in participating.
The panelists, three of them committed showed signs of disjust when the partydominated audience refused to join the discussion.

One prominent figure who did not toke part was Peter Lougheed himself. Mr. Lougheed opened only briefly—and, did though he has publicly supported The Movement's drive for student responsibility. Presumably, Mr. Lougheed was three to things which he has previously been told obout second-nord. Before him sat the phenomenon of committed party youth—mostly slient—while the activities had a field day slient—while the activities had a field day length of the control of the iency. "The future is ours," Conservative ban-ners proclaim; but not until a youthful and exciting leader can find a way to harness the forces he claims to want to represent.

another med show rolls by the old wavs

by bryan campbell

Provost A. A. Ryan and the Discipline Interpretation and Enforcement Board have clashed over a residence liquor raid.

residence liquor raid.

A residence house committee member who took part in the raid was accused, by another student, Omaya al Karmy, of "acting against the ordinary principles of good conduct and the best interests of the student body as a whole."

of the student body as a whole."

The Board did not fine the student since he was acting in his copacity as a Lister Hall house committee official, but in an uncommittee of pod conduct when he used a pass-king, be enter a room without knocking.

Before Christmas an unidentified student jumped from his fourth student jumped from his fourth storey window in Lister Hall during and provided the student prov ankle.

The dispute centered around Provost Ryan's contention that the DIE Board had no jurisdiction in residence matters, but when the provost took the problem to students' Council on Monday, January 17, he raised these more serious points:

dents' Council on Mondoy, Janua 17, he raised these more serio point. The raised these more serio point. The raised the series of the series o where they are going to fail eart.

"What do you expect from a handful of elected house committee ... put yourself in their place ... when would you dissive statement fails to cover all the probelms in Lister Hall. Gambling is rife. Reports put the nightly losses of some students as high as twenty dollars. Something is wrong in Lister Hall. Everyone agrees, but no one has a solution. I spent three years in Athabasca I spent three years in Athabasca

Hall in the afterglow of a great man—Reg Lister. I never had the privilege of meeting him, but its friendly ghost hounted the old building with its long tradition or residence government. I must have a serious personality problem or something, because the first weekend I was in residence first weekend I was in residence in my wing organized a small party.

In my wing organized a similar party.

It took place in my room, and next morning as I lay on my bed feeling sick with bottles all over the room, there was a rap on the

H was Dr. Morrison, the warden. I thought it was all over. I had read the handbook. He gave me some fatherly advice about drinking the state of the

in any other residence in any other university.

But the parties in Athabasca Hall were noteworthy for the pre-sence of hall seniors. They were always there in the thick of the acalways there in the thick of the action and they passed on residence tradition. They kept the noise down and the stakes low, they tought respect for the building tour the sound tritle, but the golden use was the fundamental regulation.

If you cannot eliminate liquor and gambling at least teach the students how to handle them—that was the fundamental trade that the students have the fundamental trade of the students have been always the students have b philosophy of the old residence.

In cluster Hall, they are trying to go by the book. The residence to go by the book. The residence of the provide mature leadership. Also Hore may be too busy with his classes in education to take time out to help the students. The house had been the beautiful to the provide mature to tradition to help the students. The house had been tree her beautiful to the provide mature to the provide mature to the define their jobs. They are stuck. I am not soying we can apply the old system to the new residences—what I do suggest ful host back come changes. And now, before it is too late.

consider blessed insurance

open some letters behold our janey and watch for brainy the brash

continuing on Friday

an open letter to the university president

After reading the story in the January 21 Gateway titled "Students Role Unclear—Johns", I feel com-pelled to reply to your stated views on the role of the student in the university community.

The story seems to indicate that anticipate future needs

benefit from cus life insurance

The following is the first of The following is the tirst of a two part series dealing with life insurance. The purpose of the articles is to acquaint uni-versity students with the CUS versity students with the CUS life insurance plan and life insurance in general. The first article attempts to answer the question, "What is Life In-surance?" The second article will deal specifically with the CUS plan.

by bill winship

Probably the only two things in this world that cannot be bought with money alone are love and life

Insurance.
As for love, each to his own taste in whatever form it takes.
But as for life insurance, it is well established that, besides money, you need good health. What a you need good health. What a surprise if you suddenly found out that you are not insurable because you are classified as "too risky"?

you are classified as "too risky"? and at your age?
But what is life insurance? It has been described as a complicated miracle. It's a monster for anyone who doesn't know how it works. But it is a miraculous money-making.

if you learn the basics of its In an attempt to inform students

In an attempt to inform students on this campus about the fundamental aspects of life insurance, The Gateway interviewed R. T. Sewell, the manager of the Edmonton branch of Canadian Premier Life Insurance

Canadian Premier Life is the underwriter of the life insur-ance plan sponsored by the Canadian Union of Students. The company was chosen over etter_ inside for the outside inside for the outside

To The Editor:
After having received the latest copy of Inside, and attempting to peruse its student written articles and poems, I find myself more confused than ever. Is it just my simple-minded intelligence which receive core, with its nustree and now. can't cope with its austere and profound thought, or do other students find it as incomprehensible as 1? Does the cover really say something? Must all the poetry concern itself with sex or is there no other topic of sufficient interest to be written obout?

Perhaps the problem is one of quantity. Maybe the only people who contribute articles to Inside Insist on writing such "high-faluting" literature. I would welcome o simply-written, clearly put story, poem or play. Unfortunately I have the strange feeling that if Robert Frost or Norman Rockwell had poem or play. Unfortunately howe the strange feeling that if Robert Frost or Norman Rockwell had nonymously contributed the ir works to the editor she would have considered them the products of immotive, if not restored minds, supplement for all—on Inside for the "Outside." Perhaps my not-too-intelligent colleagues and myself could then find a better purpose for Inside from Inside that the purpose of the "Outside." Perhaps my not-too-intelligent colleagues and myself could then find a better purpose for Inside than using It for foller tissue.

Inside than using it for toilet tissue or cigarette papers.

Sonja Ypma

the bids of 50 other life in-surance companies for their the bids of 50 other life in-surance companies for their ability to provide a low-cost life insurance policy for CUS members which would also pro-vide a sound basis for the individual's permanent insurance needs.

According to Mr. Sewell, life in-surance is the only instrument that can create an estate at any moment and at the very moment it is need

Why should a student buy life insurance? The answer to this question is not simple, especially to students who are unaware of the benefits and advantages that will accrue when life insurance is purchased at an early age.

Generally speaking, however, most students have a moral oblig-ation to their parents or others who have made financially possible, not nave made financially possible, not only their attendance at university, but also their preparatory high school years. Most students' parents are paying some of the cost of university, and yet it is not eve every parent that can afford to do this.

By Insuring their own lives students are acknowledging, Mr. Sewell add, this indebtedness, lishly important—lit takes more than money to buy life insurance.
It requires goed health. A staumoney, but is fortunately most probably long on good health.
After a student graduates and it earning an income he will life insurance, but will he then be able to afford permanent life insurance, but will be then enjoy the necessary good health? This will be the time when the arise, but it may not be available for this need because the person is uninsurable—or else he may have to pay heavy extra premiums for sub-standard insurance.

The Canadian Union of Students

The Canadian Union of Students realizes this and offers to its members the apportunity to anticipate these future needs and to protect these future needs and to protect the protect of th holder—exclusive of loans.

The Canadian life insurance industry operates, Mr. Sewell said under the highest standards of regulation in the world.

under the highest standards of a quilation in the world.

"Life insurence is a major export of Canada to many foreign countries. And there is a simple reason for this— no insured person has ever suffered any financial loss or over received one cent less than consultation of the con-tracts. Canada is the only country in the world that can make this statement," Mr. Sawell saids.

Sewell said.
Certainly one of the most confusing things about life insurance is the terminology involved. Mr. Sewell attempted to 'explain some of these terms for The Gateway.

© Permanent Insurance—this is ony life insurance policy that in addition to providing insurance prowhich increase over the policy years. Term Insurance—this provides coverage without accumulating cash

policy this is the benefit available of the sum insured.

• Cash Surrender Value—the amount of money a permanent life insurance policy can be surrendered insurance policy can be surrendered for at any given time.

Paid-Up Value—the amount of permanent insurance that can remain in force with no further premiums at any given time.

Waiver of Premium—in the event of total disability extending in excess of six months the insuring company assumes payment of the company assumes prymens premiums.

• Waiver of Premium Income—in addition to Waiver of Premium benefit this pays a monthly income equal to $10 per month per $1,000 of the sum insured for the duration of the disability (normally found on permanent policies).

asability (normally found on permanent policies).

Accidental Death (double indemnity)—usually provides an additional death benefit equal to the face value in the event of accidental

Dividends—any permanent life policy can be purchased as a par-ticipating or non-participating policy. In participating, the holder of the policy will share in the profits of the policy will share in the profits of the company by receiving annual dividend credits created by the company's investments and a favorable mortality experience. Ninety-seven and one-half per cent of all such profits on participating insurance must be paid to the policy holder. Non-participating policies ac-cumulate cosh value only without dividends. There is a higher pre-mium for participating policies, but the dividend return will more than offset this.

Having defined some of the common terms used in conjunction with life insurance, Mr. Sewell then brief-ly described five basic types of per-manent life insurance available.

1. Ordinary Life or Whole Life-In Oralindry Lite or Whole Life— this insures a person for the whole of his life with premiums payable for the whole of his life or such shorter periods determined by the policy holder—e.g. at retirement.

2. Life Paid at Age 65—premiums gre payable to age 65 with the face amount of the policy remaining in full force after that date with no full force after that date with no turther premiums poyable.

3. Limited pay life policies—e.g. 10 pay life, 20 pay life, life polid age 55—these function identically to life poid age 65 in that once the period or age limit contracted for is reached the face value remains in order the force with no further premiums. force with no further premiums. But the shorter the period, the higher the premium.

4. Endowments—these are available for a limited number of years or to predetermined ages—the same as limited pay life plans. The distinguishing feature is that at maturity the cash value of the endowment equals the original face value of the policy. This money is available for any purpose at maturity age.

5. Pension Policy—this is an accelerated endownent policy with cash values maturing between one-and-one-half and two times the original value of the plan.

your attitude is basically defensive and a person gets the feeling that you think students are privileged to be part of the university. Obto be part of the university to be part of the university. Ob-viously students are essential and important members of the university. with the capacity to make worth-while contributions to the quality of life on the university campus. You suggest that students will be allowed to present their views in the class. ea to present mell views in the class-room and in Committee on Student Affairs meetings—clearly this limit-ed participation does not enable us to make a full contribution to governing the university or to the "pursuit of truth".

In a further paragraph, you exhibit a misunderstanding of our ideas on university government when you say "it is not our ideas on university govern-ment when you say "it is not the students business to oper-ate the university". Our brief states the role which students hope to play, namely: 'students, as an integral and essential part of the university, desire to obtain some decrae of influence part of the university, desire to obtain some degree of influence and responsibility with regard to those offoirs' (which are of interest to all sectors of the university). Thus we do not intend to control the university but rather to work with the faculty in fulfilling the purpose of our university. of our university.

Later in the brief you suggest that a student member of the Board of Governors "would be wasting time better spent in a library". I sup-pose if a person is simply concerned pose if a person is simply concerned with studying courses, possing exams, graduating and going out into Society to make more money than the next fellow—your view would hold true. Some of us are concerned that the purpose of university education should be the de-velopment of persons not merely the supply of production instruments for our industrial system ur industrial system. We are alonged about the huge undergraduate classes, the poer student-faculty distribution of the poer student-faculty distribution of the construction of teaching consistent of teaching construction of teaching consistent of deas between an exchange of deas between an exchange of deas between an exchange of deas between the community and not merely reflect them—this involves a freet them—this involves a well as self-examination of our institution. institution.

These are some of the concerns that led us to petition for student members on the Board of Governors and the General Faculty Council. Many students do have leisure time, Many students do have leisure time, following their studies, in which they can make a meaningful contribution to the university community. The role of the student in university government can well be an important part of his total educational ex-

While you no doubt share many of these concerns, I really feel that you under-estimate the real that you under-estimate the vital contribution which students can make to the university. For if our university is to become great, it will depend on both the students and the faculty.

May I suggest, in closing, that you rejoice in the fact that students are coming alive to play a more active role in the university and are not simply passive, recipients of formal clusteria.

education.

My intention of writing this letter is not to present a militant confrontation but rather it is my sincere hope that as students and faculty we can together build a great university. I will be available to discuss the ideas presented in this letter at warms and the confront of the confront

Yours very truly, Richard T. Price President The Students' Union

congratulations

To The Editor

Of the many hundreds of stu-Of the many hundreds of student publications to come across our desk every week, none has pleased our editorial staff more than the January 19 issue of The Gateway, on whose front page Janey Craig displays the best of Western Canada. The East knows no such natural wom-You have thawed out our

We are certain that with such ed success.

With congratulations and best wishes, and in eager anticip-ation of your future issues, we hers admiringly, William M. Carroll (Columnist)

Hugh G. Doyle, (Asst. Director, Public Relations)
Allan M. Rock,
(Co-Associate Editor)
(The Fulcrum, University of Ottawa)

Miss Craig has agreed to show off some of Western Canada's best, especially for the Fulcrum staff, and here she is.—The Editor.

Four-year program essential -- Stewart

By ANDY RODGER

their degrees.

ment.
The report was called for in view of the greatly increased enrolments at U of A. The number of students on the combined Edmonton and Calgary campuses will reach 34,850 by 1975, according to one estimate contained in the report.

estimate contained in the report. It was to alleviate this student explosion, and consequent crowding of facilities, that the provincial government instituted the Public Junior Colleges Act in 1959. Under the Act, junior colleges located in smaller municipalities, such as Lethbridge and Camrose, were to provide first-year university train-

In Dr. Stewart's opinion, the junior colleges have failed. He recommends a new college system in their place.

This new system would create a third level of education; between the university and the high school. The new institutions, called District Colleges, would not only provide university courses, but also provide a terminal system for students wanting more than high school, but less the one of the contraction of the contr wanting more than high school, but less than university training. The District Colleges would thus provide a relief for the crowded universities. They could also be Philosophy prof

continued from page one

University of Alberta under-graduates may soon have to take four years training to obtain

This is one of several recom-mendations made by Dr. Andrew Stewart in a "Special Study on Higher Education" presented re-cently to the provincial govern-

College training would be for two years. This leaves only one year, under the present system, to be spent on the university campus. Stewart feels this Dr. Stewart sufficient. Presently the university grad-

Presently the university graduates students only if they have at least five courses from U of A.

The report admits several difficulties in setting up the District Colleges. The problem of obtaining personnel, which already at some universities is acute, would probably sently in overall short.

used for adult education and exused for adult education and ex-tension services.
University crowding is already affecting the Edmonton campus of U of A. Building programs are three years behind requirements, and lack of space requires high-rise building. Because of such crowding, the report recommended the maximum campus size as 18,000. After the campus reaches this size, either a satellite campus or size, either a satellite campus or a separate university would have to be built. Such schemes have been tried in Toronto and Van-couver. But it is hoped that a District College in Edmonton would District College in Edmonton would take a large number of first and second year students. Incentives to attend District College rather than U of A, perhaps reduced fees, would be used.

The report recommended the

The report recommended me four-year baccalaureate degrees for two reasons:

increased available knowledge requires longer periods of edditection

the four-year program is in line with requirements of other uni-versities in Canada.
 INSUFFICIENT TIME

probably result in over-all short-Educational techniques would Educational techniques wound have to be developed to meet the peculiar needs of the District Colleges, and a curriculum would have to conform both to university requirements and the unique college in the conformation of the co lege situation.

Neither of these problems has yet been solved.

yet been solved.

At present costs per student at U of A are about $1,900 a year. The state of t

DELAY SECOND CAMPUS JELAY SECOND CAMPUS

If a District College were established at Edmonton, by 1975 the university would not probably have reached its maximum enrolnave reached its maximum enrol-ment. Thus development of a second campus would be delayed, and duplication of university facili-ties would be avoided.

If a second campus or a second

If a second campus or a second university is to be avoided, said Dr. Stewart, "... it would seem desirable to limit the admission of desirable to limit the admission of the universities. This students to the universities.

mission requirements for direct admission to courses in the now there-year program ... "A smaller freshman dropout rate would be one result of such a move.

The report made several constraints of the control of the c university.

Since the main student population pressure is now at Edmonton, a second campus or university can only be avoided by diverting many students away from U of A Ed-

THE NIGHTS OF COKE AND DOUGHNUTS-Taking their usual break from the tedious business of rehearsal the cast of Li'l Abner gathers in SUB caf for sustenance. Li'l Abner will be presented in the Jubilee Auditorium Feb. 17, 18 and 19; tickets are now on sale in SUB and the Allied Arts box office in the Bay.

THE ST. ALBERT PROTESTANT SEPARATE SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 6

will be interviewing prospective teachers at the Student Employment Office on Monday, January 31 and Tuesday, February 8

Teachers are required for September 1966 in Division I — Training in the teaching of reading.

Division II - Language-Arts, Oral French, Library, Music.

Division III — Library, Oral French, Music, Industrial Arts, Art, Science.

High School - Business Education.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Summer or longer employment available on surface or underground at $1.60 per hour minimum. 48 hours per week minimum. Students who will work underground and who plan to stay out a year are specially welcome. Men who appear capable will be trained and should earn $450-$550 per month.

See Mr. J. E. Lemay, N.E.S. Student Placement Supervisor for details and interview date. Discovery Mines Limited, Discovery, N.W.T.

offers to assist emerging clubs By EKKEHARD KOTTKE

The U of A Flying Club has invited students of universities in B.C., Saskatchewan, and Manitoba to form university flying clubs in a bid to promote aviation.

a bid to promote aviation.

Chuck Avery, treasurer, has promosed to assist interested student groups by showing them how to ferret out financial assistance for student flying ventures from students will be student from the form of the Namao Airport Sunday the club was told that the Air Force's need for qualified pilots has taken a tremendous upturn recently.

cently.
Wing Commander Brice outlined a program of so-called short short commissions which pay a university student up to $4,000 yearly without interfering with his university training or committing him to a subsequent permanent commission.

mission.

For the average weekend flyer, the wings are still well within reach of a student's budget. Club members rent most of the planes used by them at special club rates used by them at special club rates from the Edmonton Flying Club or Gateway Aviation.

A recent Jin to Banff cost a Proposed Hy-in to Saskatoon was estimated at $30 for the weekend by Hugh Garvais-Reed, president. Graeme Proudfoot said these fly-ins are to establish better inter-varily relations.

"The most dangerous part of these flights is the trip to and from the airport," he said in response to a question about the risks in-volved.

Canadian pilots are much more proficient than their American counterparts, students or otherwise,

he said.

The club stresses planning of flight plans as just one of the many safety factors imposed on it by the dept. of transport.

During Varsity Guest Weekend the club intends to assemble a high performance glider plane in Pybus Lounge. The public will also be the university grounds for only $2$ which includes transportation to the airport.

Fluing Club

senior undergraduate students of assistant professors Murray and Williamson submitted a letter to the committee on their behalf.

The students said that in their opinion both professors were excellent teachers, and they deplored their dismissal. Of all students available, only two refused to sign the letter. Both of these had done poorly in their respective courses.

or these had done poorly in their respective courses.

The department spokesman also charged the administration with cruelty.

cruelty.

"Both professors were told by the department head that they had nothing to worry about as far as tenure was concerned. They were not until after they had returned from a conference in New York, where both turned down numerous job offers," he said.

The spokeman also claimed that his decision would destroy the hadron they have been decision would destroy the hallowloph department at the U of Allowooph department at the U of

"We have now the most exciting plates of the control of the contro "We have now the most exciting

he said.

"I am very much concerned that the U of A could be blacklisted in academic circles," he said.

Mr. Williamson has a B.A. in philosophy from the University of Leeds and a Bachelor of Philosophy degree from Oxford. He has been here 3 and one-half years and is editor of Commonsense.

Mr. Murray has a B.A. and M.A.
from Dalhousie University and has from Dalhousie University and has done 4 years of post graduate work at Oxford. He has been active in the Film Society and Studio Theatre: He is also a pianist of concert calibre. He has been here 4 and one-half years.

THE WORK BEGINS-Participants at the 1965 International WUS Workcamp at Seoul. Korea, begin clearing the site of the proposed student centre. Workcamp is one of many World University Service projects, and part of the funds to support them comes from the SHARE campaign to be held on this campus from Feb. 7-11

U of A plans 'Education Corps' to promote post-secondary education

By LORRAINE MINICH
An "Education Corps" from the
John The Man State of the Man The Jian
The plain is high school visitaThe plain is high school visitatine plain is high school visitatine plain in the plain of the value of continuing their education.
The executive council of the stusentative met last week with school superintendents from rural areas.
Fritten school superintendents and tive approval to the program.
The superintendents will discuss the plans with high school principair. Also, an attempt will be made such as the plans with high school principal. Also, an attempt will be made students are interested in. The students are interested in. The rogram will be much more suc-

students are interested in. The cessful if the concerns and questions of the high school students are made known to the students' union of the university. In approaching the problems affecting students in their decision to the concerns a students in their decision to the concerns a student of the students of the stud smaller groups of students and parents.

The pilot project which will go into effect in May will involve four northern school divisions and four southern divisions. The education corps team will likely consist of two university students, a university professor, and one vocational student.

U of A plans international studies centre

The University of Alberta is the proposed site for a research center for international studies.

The idea originated in the international relations section of the department of political science which recommended its establishment to the Academic Planning Commission for study.

partment of political science when the Academic Planning Commission for study.

Prof. King Gordon, head of the department of political science, told center would involve interdisciplinary research.

A number of other departments such as economics, history, sociostical science, told of the such as the center would be entered in the center is the population of a problem which could be studied at the center is the population by the department of political science, there would be economic, agricultural, and sociological aspects of this problem. Other possible and conflict studies.

It is hoped the center will attract many scholars of international studies, the visiting professors and accomplication of the center. "Right now we have the beginnings of a very good international relations section in our department of the center. The program of the center in the center of the center of the center of the center of the center. The program control and the Board of Governors before establishment of the center in height, in the latest of the center o

Political clubs less important - Portigal

Address to PC convention gives blast and suggests alterations

CALGARY-The political science clubs on campus are becoming less and less important each year, a U of A student said Friday.

Lawrence Portigal, past president of the Progressive Con-servative Student Federation, was speaking to the Annual PC Convention in Calgary.

Languages converging -- linguist

People tend to hang on to their languages with the same attach-ment that we show for cowboy suits even after these have become

This view was expressed by Dr. Swadesh, a world-famous linguist who specializes in the study of the origin of language.

Dr. Swadesh, a professor of linguistics and anthropology at the University of Mexico, spoke at a guest lecture here Thursday, on "The Origin and Diversification of Language

In his lecture he covered time depths ranging from 5,000 to two million years.

Even at that time humans had flat teeth as opposed to the sharp, canine teeth of animals, he said.

This, together with other linguis-tically oriented data, helps to dis-prove certain theories about the evolutionary development of man from the ape. They are cousins at best, he said.

Animals are incapable of forming consonants, he found. The familiar "miau" of cats is actually an "iaaou" with some nasalization, but without lin closure

He mentioned also the case of a chimp that had been house-trained after only a few trials. But 'Vicki' could only communicate her priv-ate needs by waving a diaper.

Man, however, was able to use consonants at a point in his history when his language consisted of a mere handful of pointing words.

Dr. Swadesh compared this lan-guage stage to the experience of a person who suddenly noticed a car backing up against him. In such a situation any sound would do, he Demonstrative roots that can still be traced today have a consonant-vowel sequence. Our word "so" belongs into this group.

This hard core of pointing words and maybe 100 reconstructable association words served Dr. Swa-desh as an ancestral language for languages as far apart as America, Asia, and Africa.

He showed the relationship of such divergent languages to each other by proving their relationship to their next-door neighbor, travel-ing and recording phonetic field data from one Indian community to

Thus he discovered a series of dialectal variations which he spanded over three continents with hardly a cognate link missing in his chain of relationships. He called this a wave theory.

Dr. Swadesh said languages are converging through the use of identical technical vocabularies.

He will teach a course in linguistics on American Indian languages this summer at U of A.

Political clubs have failed to change with the change in the type of student on campus, said Portigal. The party political clubs don't mean or stand for anything, and there is no communion of beliefs, ideas, or aims among members of the organization.

ization.

Portigal said political party clubs must drastically alter their approach so they can attract both the academic and activist type of student.

He stressed the need for groups to examine social problems, not just political problems.
Fortigal questioned merit of
If the tradition is to be retained, the structure needs to be altered, Model Parliament should select a single theme to deal with each year, said Portigal.

ange theme to eas win each year. This way, meaningful research would be done by each party into the various sapects of the problem. Such changes could lead to a revitalization of the campus political views are important, or the club will slowly fade away, said Portigal. "The future of the Progressive Conservative party lies in attracting and holding young people capable chaip," said Portigal. "The University campus is the source of future leaders, and the party should always keep this in mind."

Professors welcome complaints

U of A professors would prefer students take complaints directly to them before seeing faculty deans

The Gateway sought professors' reactions to the suggestion of Dr. D. E. Smith, Dean of the Faculty of Arts that students who are dissatisfied with their professors report to the dean of their faculty.

satustical with their professions re-port to the dean of their faculty, to have students approach them first lectures are not progressing satisfactorily. If the situation does not improve students are justified in improve students are justified in improve students are justified in laying complaints. Dr. H. A. Kennedy, assistant professor of business administration and commerce says "a student can-not be supported by the student of the versation off to a bad start. "As student can come to a prof if the thinks the course can be im-proved by it. If one student is hav-might be having trouble too." Professors stressed students must be objective in laying complaints.

Professors stressed students must be objective in laying complaints. "Students have a responsibility." both positive and negative, to help assess a professor's ability," said ressor of history, assistant pro-fessor of history, Dr. John Kuspira, associate pro-fessor of history. Dr. John Kuspira, associate pro-fessor of histories likes students to see him directly. He thinks a com-plaint made to the dean often is distorted as it is passed down. In distorted as it is passed down.

quite sure what the complaint is

ON A SMALL BUDGET!

If you're heading for Europe this year and you're really interested in visiting exciting places...let us help you explore Israel !
You'll visit new and old sites, make friends with "Kibbutz" members . . . see Jerusalem, Galilee, the Red Sea and the Student Travel Kit, write to:

ISRAFL GOVERNMENT TOURIST OFFICE.

The Gateway fine arts

warhorses trample audience

An infinitesimal percentage of Gateway readers will no doubt have noticed that the Arta Page did not carry the accustomed Symphony review after the ESO concert featuring Elleen Farrell. I offer no explanation for this fact. But I do include a review of that concert (made up of works by Wagner and Schumann) In suppose that some discussion.

I suppose that some discussion Eileen Farrell's merits is in order. I was impressed, but not quite as much as the audience (who gave her an ovation even greater than that which they awarded Ruggiero Ricci).

greater than that which they warded Ruggiero Ricci). She has a large voice, almost support of the state of th

Sunday last's symphony concert bore the title "Hommage a la France", and consisted entirely of nineteenth-century consisted entirely of nineteenth-century of Erick. The concert began not (as has been known to happen) with a you've guessed it; Berlioz "Roman Carnival" Overture, one of the best bits from his Frenetic Period. The orchestra's perform-but rose to brilliance at the final coda.

coda.

(The spectacle of Mr. Priestman, driven to Bacchic frenzy in his empathy with the music, and stabbing violently towards the trombones at the last chord, will not soon be forgotten by its tromotomes at the last chool, will witnessers, a Bizet's "L'Arlesienne" Suite No. I was given a solid performance, and "The Soverer's Apprentice" a beautifully detailed one. The solid performance of "Bolero".

The second half of the concert was taken upby Cesar Franck's conly two Franck works played with any real degree of frequency. Franck is one of those composers whom it is very difficult to classify the composers whom it is very difficult to classify the composers whom it is very difficult to classify the composers whom it is very difficult to classify the classification of the composers whom it is very difficult to classify the classify the classification of the composers whom it is very difficult to classify the classification of the composers whom it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers whom it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is very difficult to classify the composers when it is the

a good symphony that just misses being great by virtue of its numerous musical faux pas; or as a mediocre work with an awfully lot of good things in it. Franch is always surprising you: either by taking a bad tune and de-veloping it very interestingly, or by suddenly turning a very good theme into something tuterly banal. These comments apply pretty well to the performance of the symphony as well. The audience, needless to say, lapped it all up.

The fact that the Symphony Society has given us consecutive programs of all-German and all-French music suggests some dia-bolical plan of musical education bolical plan of musical education on its part. But although the Society has done German music a good ser-vice by playing Wagner and Schumann (not ordinarily per-formed in these parts), they have by and large done French music an iff one.

It is not so much the fact that the composers played last Sunday are not as good as Wagner and Schumann (indeed Berlioz is as least as good), as that those comleast as good), as that those com-posers were poorly represented. Why doesn't the Edmonton Sym-phony throw caution to the winds, and do Berlioz' "Romeo and Juliette", or any of the host of great unperformed masterpieces of that composer? Or why not do "Daphnis and Chloe" instead of "Bolero"?

German music-lovers will probably retort that the French are just getting theirs at last, and that it serves them right for having been on the winning side baving been on the winning side
But I suppose there is hope left.
But I suppose there is hope left.
Insertable though the Edmonton Symphony Society is, I am sure that they are laboring under quite horrible programing restrictions, off whatever mysterious shackles off whatever mysterious shackles now bind them, we will see a veritable musical Renaissance in how surveitable musical Renaissance in extendion.

Edmonton.

Edmo

miller and oliver bring back sheba

William Ingue is NOT a great playwright. Unfortunately in "Come Back, Little Sheba" he frequently gives no indication of being even a good playwright. The proposition of the propositio piece of writing into an evening of enjoyable thearts. Eols, dominible to Oliver, as Eols, dominible to Oliver, as the end of the en is unfortunate enough to stop by is unfortunate enough to stop by her door.

While the humor is much need-ed in the play, it should not con-trol the performance. Only an actress of Miss Oliver's excep-tional calibre has the good sense not to let such humor dominate, not to make the role a mere parody on the neuroticism of the "typical" North American housewife.

Instead, she forces us to see the pathos in Lola's life, the loneliness and meaninglessness of a marriage haunted by a past "wrong", bound together now only by a mutual need to rationalize regrets, and made tolerable only by exceed the property of the pathon of the property of the pathon of the property of the pathon of the patho grets, and made tolerable only by eavesdropping and peeking on a younger and seemingly more happy couple who are re-enact-ing her own "mistake" with a callousness he would have been incapable of displaying. Miss Oliver builds this lone-liness into a climatic desparation.

liness into a climatic desparation, into the fear which Lola displays in the final scenes, into a blind and futile response to her husband's need for her, into the hopelessness of her inability to hopelessness solution to every problem ("Feel to the fix you an egg") one must acclaim Miss Oliver's performance as brilliant.

Fixed Miles valueing Dos avery

Fred Miller, playing Doc, very nearly matches her. He begins weakly: during the opening scenes there seems to be a certain mechanical effort in his frustration.

However, as the play progresses and Doc's regrets and fears become more and more of an obsession with him, as he seeks refuge once more in alcohol, Mr. Miller gives an increasingly dynamic and convincing perform-

He does especially well in the final act where he manages to make the scene in which he remake the scene in the s her husband.

He and Miss Oliver are an excellent complement to each other's abilities.

Similarly flattering things carnot be said of Robert Mumford (Turk) or of Bonita Rose (Marie).
They are, even during their latter scenes, mediocree.
Mr. Mumford's role has been ponly written—the character of Turk is not at all complex or well-defined. However, in view which defined. However, in view has shown himself capable of, one has shown himself capable of, one is justified in expecting a far less shallow interpretation of the role of Turk than Mr. Mumford pre-

His performance lacks His performance lacks conviction and so the character becomes a type of villain one expects to find in bad melodrama. Miss Rose's performance is no materialitie young woman hiding her deception under a thin veneer of social correctness. She is not, as Miss Rose attempts to suggest, the innocent All-American College Gift.

But the production should not

_D Sector photo

SO THEN I SAID TO SARTRE . . —In a scene from "Winter Kept Us Warm", an all-student feature film produced and directed by David Sector of the University of Toronto, Doug (John Labow) and Peter (Henry Tarvainen) take up characteristically glib and awkward poses respectively. film will be shown at 8 p.m. in mp 126, February 10 to 12, by Students' Cinema.

be condemned on the grounds that poor acting seemed to be the chief characteristic of the minor roles, or that it is poorly written. In the case, the excellent performances of leading characters and the use of a well-designed set has more than compensated for other deficiencies in the production.—Shirley Neuman

-Shirley Neuman

this week has four evenings

All of a sudden, the Arts scene is a positive hive of activity. The tempted to deliver the regulation cynical warning Chort appropriate; everything that's coming up looks almost frightenigly good. In the following list, events are arranged norder of their importance.

Tonight, Les Petits Chanteurs de Montreal are singing at Alleid Montreal are singing at Alleid from the community of the communi third item of this year's Jeunesses Musicales program. Non-JMC members are admitted for $2.00. Arts page spies who heard the concert last weekend in Wetaskiwin report that the choir sings its 17th-18th century program divinely.

its 17th-18th century, divinely.

Those of you who swooned over "The Sound of Music" owe it to yourselves to see what a real boys' choir sounds like.

This afternoon and evening, and Thursday afternoon and evening, Olivier's "Ottello" is playing at the Odeon.

Presumably everybody has already purchased his tickets, since this is a filmed version of the British National Theatre's prouction which has been halled with frightening unanimity as the best frightening unanimity as the best of the century. Tickets are ridiculously cheap; Trick very early, before the schoolchildren and the English S22 feetners along the treats. Thrusday, Friday and Saturday evenings, 8.15 at the Jubilee Auditorium, the U of A Mixed Chorus bursts yet once again into full-throated song. Chorus bursts yet once again into full-throated song.

full-throated song.
The annual Mixed Chorus concert has practically become an expect of the process of the proc

The week ends, as usual, with the Yardbird Suite's current production, a rather special one: Henry Kreisel, head of the English Department and one of Canada's finest novelists, is reading Oscar Wilde's 'The Ballad of Reading Gaol' and his own story 'The Traveling Nude'.

"The Travelling Nude".

I seem to have exhausted all my superlatives in dealing with this week's other events. What can I say? That a reading of any Kreisel story is a major Edmonton literary event? That Wilde's poom is without the say of the

I don't suppose it matters; what I really want to say is very simple. Go down and hear Dr. Kreisel Friday, Saturday or Sun-day night. The show starts at day night. The show starts at 9:30 p.m. Here's wishing all an exhaust-

-J. O. Thompson

ALL SORTS OF WEIRD AND WONDERFUL THINGS ALL SORTS OF WEIRD AND WONDERFUL THINGS RAPPENED—The Junior Bear hockey team was dumped by the Junior B Red Wings; the Golden Bear basketball team split a two-game session with the UAC Dinosaurs; the gym team placed third in the provincial meet; Alberta grunt and groaners were out grunted by Saskatchewan; and both 43-man squamish teams were obliterated during their brief encounter Saturday night.

A representative from the Young Women's Christian Association

Will interview 1966 female graduates in

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

SOCIAL SCIENCE

for the positions of

General Group Program Director and Physical and Health Education Director

February 10 and 11, 1966

For an appointment contact THE STUDENT PLACEMENT OFFICE

Junior Bears beat Maple Leafs; lose to Red Wings at weekend

A victory over the Edmonton Maple Leafs Friday night and a loss to the Edmonton Junior B Red Wings marked Junior Bear hockey action over the weekend.

action over the weekend.
On Friday night 45 fams saw the Junior Bears start out fast, grabbing a 5-0 lead after 27 minutes of play. A defensive lapse caused their lead to diminish as the Maple Leafs fired two quick goals in the closing minutes of the first thirtyminute period of play.

A goal by Ron Cebryk of the Junior Bears was the only marker of the second period as the teams settled down to close checking. The final score was 6-2.

Scoring for the Junior Bears were Ron Cebryk and Richard George with 2 each plus Gary Hut-nan and Sam Belcourt with one apiece. Pennel and Gibson replied for the Maple Leafs.

On Saturday night the Junior Bears' six-game winning streak

QUEENS & TEENS BEAUTY SALON
Phone 439-1990

for latest stylings, body perms, perms, frosting and tipping

1/2 block South Open Mon. - Sat. of University Hospital in Concord Towers Thurs, and Fri. till 9 p.m.

McMASTER UNIVERSITY GRADUATE TEACHING FELLOWSHIPS

The University offere Graduate Teaching Fellulowship to support graduate students working towards a Master's Degree in Biochemistry, Biophysics, Civil Engineering, Classics, Economics, German, Greek, Latin, Mechanical Engineering, Metallurgical Engineering, Philosophy, Political Science, Romance Languages, Russian, Sociology and Social Anthropology; and for a Master's or Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Biological Chemical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Chemical Physics, Expendistry, Rachemizal Engineering, Chemical Physics, Specifical Study, Mathematical Engineering, Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Chemical Physics, Psychology and the Religious Sciences.

Sciences.

The Fellowships vary in value but in all cases the stipends provide adequate support for a full year's study. Most awards are renewable for subsequent years. Holders of Fellowships will devote approximately one-fifth of their time to instructional duties.

Travel advances are available to assist students who are coming to the University from distant points.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from: The Dean of Graduate Studies, McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

victory.

For two periods of play the Red Wings completely outclassed the Junior Bears by passing, checking the complete of the period of the lone Bear goal.

The Junior Bears showed some improvement in the final period, holding the Wings scoreless but, all in all, they had a bad night. The team revealed it has weaknesses in shooting that didn't stand out against previous easier competition. The Bears do have the potential to score more goals, as verified by the score more goals, as verified by the they had throughout the gammather than the properties of the pro

Thirty fans, nonethless, enjoyed a sound team performance on the part of the Junior B Red Wings.

OPTOMETRISTS

Drs. LeDrew, Rowand, McClung and Jones

12318 Jasper Avenue

Telephone 488-0944 South Side Office-

8123 - 104 St. CONTACT LENSES

Intramural Scorecard

By ALEX HARDY

As of the press deadline it was still anyone's guess who would cart home the men's intramural Division I hockey championship.

Physical Education and Engin-eering were to have met in a play-off for the title. The sudden-death game was necessitated when the two clubs tied for top spot in inter-

Phys Ed, the League "A" winner, trounced League "C" champion St. Joseph's 7-3, while the Engineers edged past St. Joe's 3-2 in a hotly-disputed overtime contest.

What complicated matters was what complicated matters was a 2-2 overtime tie between Phys Ed and Engineering. Ken Dmytryshyn potted both Engineering goals, with Bob Norman and Len Zaichowsky replying for the Phys Eders.

replying for the Phys Eders.

Phys Ed. made the round-robin finals after it appeared they had been bounced by Lambda Chi Al-pha in a playoff for the League "A" crown. LCA won 3-2 in overtime, but the intramural office ruled against overtime and ordered the game replayed. This time Phys Ed made no mistake, winning 8-2.

St. Joe's likewise needed a 3-2 playoff win over the Phi Delts to reach the finals.

Don Sheldon of Delta Unsilon and Les Sundquist of Upper Residence tied for top spot in the recent basketball free throw competition. Each hit on 25 of 30 attempts. Tim Kallal of Medicine and Bob Jones of Arts and Science were next with 24 apiece.

A second-quarter outburst that left the opposition gasping was good enough to give Arts and Science "B" the Division II men's intramural basketball title recently.

The Arts crew racked up 16 points in the second period, then held off a stiff late-game rally by Physical Education "C" for a 36-

The game, a sudden-death affair, was needed after the two clubs tied for first place in the pre-Christmas league. Division I and III champions were decided in round-robin playoffs in December.

Another playoff was required to determine third place in Division II. The spot went to Delta Upsilon "B", narrow 37-33 winners over Latter Day Saints "B".

Latter Day Saints "B".

Bob Jones netted 11 points to pace Arts' victory. Eight came in the second quarter, as the winners built up a commanding 23-12 half-time bulge. Phys Ed outscored Arts 17-13 in the final half. Bryan Rakoz swished 13 in a losing cause.

Split with Dinos keeps Bears in race for WCIAA championship

By BRYAN CAMPBELL

The basketball Bears split a two-game series with the University of Alberta Calgary Dinosaurs at the weekend.

The Dinos took Friday's game 85-76, but the Bears came back on Saturday with 78-76 victory.

Saturday with 78-76 victory,
On Friday, the Bears came out hot and used a tight zone defence to frustrate the Dinosaur squad.
Barry Mitchelson and Darwin Semotiuk piled up point after point to give the Bears a 36-34 lead at the half-way mark.

In the second half the Dinosaurs full-court press began to take its toll and the Bear lead evaporated.

A full-court press resembles a tight, forechecking hockey team. The idea is to bottle up the other team in their own end, so the pressing team plays with four men forward and one man back.

The press is usually used on the throw-in after a basket, and when the man on the sidelines throws the ball the pressing squad doubleteams the receiver

The press is a gamble—if the team under press can break a man free down the sidelines and get the ball to him, it almost always means a basket.

The Bears rattled under press and their misplays cost them the

with five minutes remaining, the Dinosaurs had a slim edge. Then they swished the twine for six-in-a-row and coasted home for the victory.

High scorer in the hard-fought contest was 6'4", 220 lb., Bear forward, Barry Mitchelson with 24. Robin Fry led the Calgary scoring parade with 20 followed by Hans Schamp and Ken Shields with 15 each.

Schamp and Ken Shields with 15 canh. The property of the control o

The weekend contests leave the Bears in second place with a 4-2, won-loss, record. The Dinosaurs hold down first with only one de-hold down first with only one cue-feat in six starts.

This weekend the Bears travel to Calgary for the second part of the gruelling home and home series. The Bears will have to take both games from the Dinosaurs if they want to stay alive in the race-for the WCIAA championship.

.... Hectic Bear-Dinosaur action

Bears and/or Dinos capture squamish title

NO, I WANT IT

Did the Golden Bears extincterate the Dinosaurs in the 43-man squamish championship at the weekend?

The competition and brawl all wrapped into one, took place at half-time mark of the regular Bear-Dinosaur basketball tussle.

We know who won the basket-ball, but no one left their lights on in the parking lot, so there was no one to settle the dispute over the final score.

Squamish rules stipulate that only a person who has left his car running and the lights on can settle

At the flip of the pesata the two teams charged and the contest headed for the history books. The battle will rank with Dieppe raid as one of the bloodiest encounters this side of the TV screen.

The Calgary squad started the action quickly and using their frullips (a frullip is a hooked club used to move the ball and opposing players) skillfully cleared a path part-way down the floor.

But the pritz (the ball in squam-But the pritz (the ball in squamish language) never got to the centre stripe. The inside grouch carrying the ball cut down with a flying tackle and a melee ensued. Forty assorted players piled on and even the Probate judge—one of the three officials in squamish—couldn't keep order.

He had no authority anyway since the game was already under-

But all was not lost. The Red Baron appeared out of a near-by phone booth and cleaned the mess

Swinging into the action in his red-wet-suit the Baron forcibly removed 10 Dinosaurs from the pile and the rush for the goal line got moving again.

The Calgary squad was losing players by the minute so they nabbed a nifty cheerleader and used her for the pritz. She got squashed at the bottom of the pile before she could get back to the

Pieces of clothing started to clutter the floor—old helmets, flippers and masks impeded for-ward progress as the teams bogged down in a centre-court brawl.

Even the forward pass failed as the teams got down to the more serious mano-a-mano brand of

The clock ran out before tempers did and the game was over. But the dispute lives on. Who did win the brawl? Who scored and when? Did anyone try to score?

The question must be settled soon since the world championship is coming up against the Peking Paper Tigers early in 1976.

Rumour has it the teams will meet next weekend in Calgary, but as yet it has been neither confirmed or denied by any of the hospitalized players.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES FOR 1966 GRADUATES IN MATHEMATICS Department of Insurance

OTTAWA TORONTO and MONTREAL ACTUARIAL ASSISTANTS

$5,790 - $7,300

ACTUARIAL SUPERVISORS $5,050 - $5,800

U of A quartet shines in city - national game

Friday night at the Edmonton ardens was a rare exception to he old proverb "all that glitters is

Although the combined Oil King-Golden Bear-Nugget squad was eaten 4-3 by the Canadian National team, the gold was the men wearing the flashy gold helmets of he Golden Bears and they glittered like gold never did.

Wilf Martin, Austin Smith, Brian Harper and goaler Bob Wolfe were chosen to represent the Bears. Coach Ray Kinasewich logically put the trio together and after a difficult first period, they played like pros They skated well, forechecked like demons and took time out to score two of the three Star goals. "Easily the best line on the ice" was the general comment after the game as the Bears thrilled the fans with some sparkling manoeuvers.

The early trouble was due to aving two centremen on one line. Martin and Smith are pivots and Smith, relegated to right wing for the evening, found himself straying from his post. The situation was ironed out and the line went to

Early in the second period, Smith found Martin at centre ice and hit him with a perfect pass. Martin bore down on the National's net and using Harper as a decoy, cashed in on a low 25-footer.

The goal at 4:02 gave the Stars a 2-1 lead.

With 90 seconds remaining in the contest and the National team enjoying a 3-2 lead, the Bear line brought the crowd to its feet as Harper grabbed a loose puck, went in alone and knotted the score.

The Stars used Bear goaler Bob Wolfe in the third and overtime periods. The rookie blocked 10 shots in the period but was beaten once. He made one stop in the overtime but the rebound was overtime but the rebound was pumped in for a National victory at 0:41.

Wolfe played well. He was beaten cleanly on both tallies but showed confidence and poise in facing the National's firing brigade.

The stellar performance by the four Bears illustrates once more the excellent talent representing the

The Nationals are the best amateur team in the country and just being able to stay on the ice with them is an accomplishment. To outplay the team is something again and put a feather in the Bears' hat.

HERE'S YOUR CHANGE SIR-One of the Junior B Redwings turns on a dime to get back into the fray during Saturday night's match with the Junior Bears. The Junior Bears were beaten soundly with a resultant 5-1 score at the final whistle

LJC, SAIT hand first losses of season to U of A Bearcats

By LAWRENCE HIGHELL

The Bearcats received an inhospitable southern welcome over the weekend as they suffered their first two losses of the season.

two losses of the season.

Travelling to Lethbridge on Friday, the Junior Varsity team lost $1.70 to Lethbridge Junior College and then suffered defeat at the hands of SAIT, 77-75 on Saturday.

Friday, the Bearcats started the game well, as they matched baskets with the start of the proved to be the key factor in the losses.

loss.
With slightly over three minutes on the clock both Hasselfield and Kozub had committed three personal fouls.
For fifteen minutes of the first half the Bearcats remained in range of Lethbridge and the score was 29—26 for Lethbridge with 6:56 left to play.

In the last six minutes, Leth bridge went on a scoring spree and held a 47-38 half-time lead. The Bearcats came out in the second half determined to close the gap, but the early loss of Kozub with five fouls set the team back.

The Bearcats fought back to within 7 points with fine field shooting from guard Ben Urner.

The loss of Urner with two minutes left to play, put the game out of reach and the game ended 81-70 for Lethbridge.

for Lethbridge.

Urner was the star of the game as he scored 24 points on a 60 per cent average from the field. Mel Read followed with 12 points while Skribe and Kozub potted 10 apiece. Toyton with 23 and Gladstone ith 14 were the top Lethbridge scorers.

Saturday, the Bearcats took an early command of the game as they out-hustled the SAIT team. Only excellent foul shooting in the first half kept SAIT in the game as the half ended 29-26 for the Bearcats.

John Hasselfield, guard for the Bearcats, started off strong and potted 9 of the 'Cats first 14 points. In the second half, the game opened up a little more as both teams used fast breaks to score quick points. Up until the last three minutes, the Bearcats held a three to five point lead with fine rebounding from Gerry Kozub and Mel Read.

With a little over two minutes remaining, the Bearcats went into a stall to protect their five point lead.

SAIT stole the ball with one minute left and scored two baskets and a free throw to tie the game at the end of regulation time.

In the overtime period the Bear-cats took a quick five point lead but sloppy passing reduced the lead to a slim one point.

Two fouls in the final thirty sec-onds gave SAIT a two point edge and they held it for their first vic-tory of the season.

Hasselfield led the Bearcats with

14 points, followed by Kozub with 11, and Read with 10. High scorers for SAIT were Kimmel and Myers

Moochigan show highlights Native Week

An all-Indian and Metis cast will perform at 7:30 tonight in Con Hall.

perform at 7:30 tonight in Con Hall.
Moochigan Varieties will feature
Duke Redbird, Varieties will feature
Canadian Indian Youth Council; Hobbems native dancers in costtume; dancers from the IndianMetis Friendship Center in Edmonton; a Cree choir; country and warders singers; the Friendians, and Adrian Hope act of Consilion.

and Adrian Hope, a Cree scholar.
The program, part of Canadian Native Week, is organized and run by the native performers.
The dances and songs are ones which were adopted by the Indians and Metis from the early settlers and traders.

Advission to Moochigar Varie

Admission to Moochigan Varie-

Come on over to smoothness with no letdown in taste

Students graduating in Arts (Economics-Psychology) Law, and Commerce should contact the National Employment Service on campus for further information and to arrange an interview.

New York Life Insurance Company

230 Bentall Building, Phone 424-7184

Canadian University Press

Levesque predicts takeover

MONTREAL—English Canadian businessmen who operate on a unilingual basis should "get out of their Rhodesian frame of mind before it is too late."

This was the advice of Quebec's Family and Social Welfare Minister Rene Levesque, at an open meeting of the McGill Liberal Club Jan. 24.

Mr. Levesque said he was in favor of preserving the two official languages of the province but French should be regarded as the "language with the priority."

By this, he said, he does not mean unilingualism," the narrow uncivilized, collectively stupid policy as set up in the other provinces."

However, the English Canadians who have until now dominated the economic life of Quebec must learn to respect the language of "almost 80 per cent of the people." "Our ultimate aim is to take over the economic life of Quebec.

We must go slowly because of such things as nervous money markets. But we will use any legitimate means at our disposal and someday we shall succeed," he said.

"It is unreasonable to think that any people will remain vants in their home once they have the means to take over

Students protest parking fees

HAMILTON—McMaster University students have taken to the streets in the current parking fee crisis here.

A group of students early in the morning of Jan. 10 blocked parking lot entrances and attempted to disrupt their operation, although university president H. G. Thode had announced that student protests would not affect the administration's policy.

The "park-in" was organized by an ad hoc committee of the Students' Representative Assembly to protest parking conditions and the recent imposition of a parking fee.

Four students stalled their cars in the entrance to the lots but city police were already on the scene. One student had his driver's licence taken by an officer, and recovered it only by the efforts of his lawyer later in the day.

Other students picketed entrance booths or distracted parking officials by paying fees with pennies, cheques, and American bills

A campus policeman was reported to have exhorted drivers "run over" demonstrators blocking their entrance to the lots.

College may withdraw from CUS

WINNIPEG—The CUS chairman at United College presented a motion to student council Jan. 10, asking the body to drop out of CUS.

out of CUS.
Following the council meeting, CUS chairman Jim Lightbody, said in an interview: "We pay $900 a year to be a member of CUS (50 cents per student), $400 for travel to CUS conventions and seminars (to which we send four people) and this year we'll be spending $500 on the National Debating Finals. That's a total of $1,500 going to CUS this year.
"The University of Manitoba sends over $5,000 to CUS. That's $10,000 from Manitoba. For this money we get eight representatives in Ottawa, some of them second-rate fumblers representatives in Ottawa, some of them second-rate fumblers vincially orientated, the lobbying should be done at the previncial level, not in Ottawa. For the same amount of money, we could have a very effective lobby in Manitoba," he said. Concluding that a provincial association could provide the Concluding that a provincial association could provide the me services as CUS now does, Mr. Lightbody said that unadian University Press could keep students up to date on what students are doing across Canada.

Turning to the CUS international affairs program, he said: US has no power in international affairs and is just wasting time. Who cares if CUS is in favor of boycotting South

Students seek republic status

MONTREAL-The newly founded Quebec Union of Liberal Students has come out in favor of Canada abolishing its constitutional monarchy and declaring itself a republic.

The move came at the opening conference of the union whose membership is predominantly English speaking, Jan. 22. Delegates to the meeting also saked the federal government to call a constitutional conference in conjunction with the provinces to draw up a new constitution for Canada.

Such a measure has also been advocated by Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker and the Conservative Party.

The new federation of Quebec student Liberals will concern itself with both federal and provincial politics, unlike the adult party in the province which has separate federations for the two.

party in the province which has separate recurstood for the Elected president of the new union was Guy Wilson of the University of Montreal. Mr. Wilson said the group started recruiting members in August and now has about 700; 500 of whom are English-speaking, 200 French-speaking.

A LEAF FROM THE FARMER'S BOOK-Labelling bovines to foil hunters is supposedly an old ag trick. However, the meds have a penchant for marking everything so this poor star of this year's Med Show was engraved too. The Med Show was held last Thursday and Friday nights in Studio Theatre, playing to its usual capacity crowd.

Fulton - Favreau formula draws mixed reactions from conference

WINNIPEG—The proposed Ful-ton-Favreau formula to amend Canada's constitution is "a dead

duak."

As as result, 50 student delegates attending a conference this week-end at the University of Manitoba campus on "repatriation of the Canadian constitution" found the topic to be more of a practical nature than even the conference organizers had thought. This was a result of Quobe Premier Laseronic Country of the Country of the agreeable formula ever purpose.

But agreeable as it may have been to nine provincial legislatures and the federal government, a federal cabinet minister's lawyer federal cabinet minister's lawyer of St. Paul's College second annual Canadian afairs conference that the Fulton-Favreau formula was been stated to the federal cabinet formula was been such as a federal cabinet formula with the fulton-favreau formula was been such to federal minecessary and highly both totally unnecessary and highly

"Thank goodness it's dead," said R. D. Gibson, professor of con-stitutional law at the U of M Law

School.

VIABLE CONSTITUTION

"It's regrettable, but don't exaggerate the importance of Mr.
Lesage's decision, because we shouldn't over-emphasize the place of formal amendment in making a viable Canadian constitution," Hon. Jean-Luc Papin, minister of Mines and Technical Surveys, told the was "regrettable" for Mr. It was "regretable" for Mr. Papin because Quebee approval would have paved the way for the Liberal Government to have given Canadians a constitution made in Canada by Canadians as a one hundredth birthday present, one student delegate suggested.

However, the minister himself said, "like the new flag and the said, "like the new flag and the national anthem, a Canadian con-stitution amendable in Canada would have been a natural step in giving Canada the symbols of national maturity."

national maturity." Delegates agreed that there are certainly many other ways of amending the constitution besides the formal method proposed in the Fulton-Favreau formula.

Fulton-Favreau formula.

"Real constitutional change takes place by convention and by ordinary statutes," said Mr. Papin.

"The FFF, if adopted previously would have been so rigid that perhaps but two of the 15 amendments ever made to our constitution would have been passed."

ALLOW AMENDMENTS As a result of both formal and informal methods of amending the constitution, Mr. Gibson claimed Canada "has one of the best compromises between flexibility and rigidity existing in any federal jurisdiction. The present system has allowed more amendments than either the American or Australian constitutions," he said.

Both agreed the idea of a written constitution for any state is be-coming less feasible than ever

"The actual forces at work can't be put into a constitutional text, Mr. Papin said, "Too many French Canadian politicians are suffering from legalitis."

But at the same time he warned

But at the same time he warned that like Prench-Canada before the beginning of the quiet revolution, the property of the prope

POLITICAL UTILITY

Mr. Papin said he saw the Lesage rejection as an example of political utility.

He refused to get caught between those who claim the FFF would have been too rigid to prevent the federal government from increasing its powers, and those who on the other hand claimed it would be to rigid a framework within a politic politic for the federal force or and the said of the politic force or the federal force or find a framework within white guelbe could achieve its goal.

goal,
"If the present constitution is so bad, how did it allow the Quebec government to do all the things associated with its new powerful economic-social status?" Mr. Pa-economic-social status?" Mr. Pa-pin asked.

Although it may have been a politically wise move, it may lose Mr. Lesage more votes than he will

Mr. Lesage more votes than he will gain in the next provincial election. "He will make more enemies than "The val danger in the rejection of the FFF by Quebec is that through simple conservatism, lack of originality, or through fear, we division in Canada. If Mr. Diefen-baker does this, it will add un-necessary venom to Canadian poli-tic." We definitely lack political maturity if we divide on the Ful-

we definitely lack political maturity if we divide on the Ful-ton-Favreau Formula."

Project volunteers gain understanding of Indians

U of A students working in the U of A students working in the Wauneita tutoring program are benefiting from a year-round exposure to the problem of understanding Indian students.

The program, which began in October, involves 17 Indian students who are living in residence in Jasper Place and 21 U of A students.

A tour of the campus in October aroused enthusiasm for study at the university. The greatest surprise for the visitors was the size of the campus and the amount of walking necessary between build-

Tutoring is a twice weekly pro-ct done Wednesday and Thursday ights. Wednesday nights a school bus financed by a local group of women takes the students to and from the campus while on Thursday nights, some of the student tutors provide transportation for their pupils.

The tutoring program will continue until the end of February.

The Glernose hospital project has not been as successful. Forty volunteers initiated the project, but now there are only 12 active workers.

Reason for the decrease in workers.

Reason for the decrease in volunteers was given as lack of organization at the hospital.
"Many students have gone there and have not felt needed so they have dropped out," said. Shella Garrett, house ec 3, service coordinator.